
The 2023 ONLINE Conference of the Japanese Society For Mother Tongue, Heritage
Language, and Bilingual Education (MHB) August 3-6, 2023

May 4, 2023

The purpose of the Japanese Society for Mother Tongue, Heritage Language, and Bilingual Education (MHB) is to explore language education methods, theories, and research methods related to how infants, children, students, and other learners in multilingual environments in Japan and abroad acquire multilingual skills.

The 2023 conference will be held under the theme "In Search of Equity in Language Education: Reconsidering Bilingual Deaf Education" and will be held online from August 3 to 6, 2023.

In MHB's research areas of language education, including teaching Japanese as a heritage language overseas, Deaf and hard-of-hearing children, CLD children in Japan, and minority languages, securing information accessibility, language rights, and the right to education for learners are not always guaranteed. This is because providing "Equality" of opportunity for all learners does not guarantee "Equity" of results. This year's MHB conference will focus on the theme of "Equity in Language Education". We hope you will join us in discussing bilingualism in Deaf Education.

Professor Professor Ruth Swanwick (University of Leeds), Dr. Daniel Fobi, and Mr. Richard Doku, all specialists in deaf education, will deliver the keynote address on the theme, "Bi-Multilingual early childhood deaf education: cross-context conversation."

In addition, Dr. Soya Mori (Institute of Developing Economics) will give a special lecture titled "A Deaf person's self-advocacy: Life strategies related to Sign Language." This special lecture will be open to those who have not registered to attend the conference.

Other sessions will include the panel, two workshops, research presentations by MHB members, and a special roundtable. For more information, please see the conference outline.

Since MHB has members in many parts of the world, we will try to make it possible for as many people as possible to participate. We will also do our best to guarantee information for all participants. We will announce how to register for general participation at a later date. We look forward to your active participation.
